

Peasedown St John Methodist Church Internet Usage Policy

1. Introduction

The Internet is a rich resource of information which the Church Council of Peasedown St John Methodist Church ("Church Council") believe is an invaluable asset to all users of the Church Premises ("Premises").

For this reason a wireless internet (Wi-Fi) access service ("Internet Service") is made freely available to all users of the Premises. Wi-Fi means the wireless networking technology which allows Wi-Fi-enabled devices to connect to the internet when within range of a Wi-Fi network. The Wi-Fi service provided is named "PSJMC".

All users are responsible for ensuring that their Internet usage complies with this Internet Usage Policy and is ethical and lawful. Users are reminded to always use caution when revealing personally identifiable information via the Internet.

2. Acceptance of Terms

By using this Internet Service you are accepting the Terms and Conditions described in this Internet Usage Policy in full. If you do not accept this Internet Usage Policy you must stop using the Internet Service immediately.

3. Content Filtering

The Church Council is concerned about the safety and privacy of all users, and of children and young people particularly. In line with the Methodist Church policy on safeguarding, the Church Council has a responsibility to protect children and young people from risks posed by the Internet. For this reason, the Church Council uses the services of PlusNet to provide Content Filtering. This filtering will restrict or deny access to certain websites and content, however, the Church Council cannot guarantee to eliminate all the risks posed by use of the Internet Service.

4. Child Supervision

Parents, guardians and carers who wish to allow their children access to and use of the Internet Service should ensure that usage is appropriately supervised. By allowing their child access to the Internet Service they are allowing them access to all of its facilities, including, but not limited to, email, chat rooms, social media, forums and other communication facilities. It is the responsibility of parents, guardians and carers to determine what is appropriate for their child.

5. Monitoring

The Church Council reserves the right to monitor and record Internet usage patterns, in order to ascertain the usage of Internet Service or to establish if a user has contravened the Terms and Conditions describe in this Internet Usage Policy. The Church Council has no means to intercept or scrutinize the contents of any material posted, uploaded or submitted via the Internet Service.

6. Intellectual Property Rights

The Church Council does not claim ownership of any materials posted, uploaded or submitted to the Internet whilst using the Internet Service.

7. Termination of Service

The Church Council reserves the right to discontinue access to the Internet Service at any time, for any reason and without notice.
